Subject: Project announcement

Dear colleague,

The management board of Real Reaction © electronics company has decided that we should develop a new product: a new television remote control. You are invited to take part in the design of this product. You will join a project, consisting of four participants:

1. The project manager, email: participant1@ami
2. The industrial designer, email: participant2@ami
3. The user interface designer, email: participant3@ami
4. The marketing expert, email: participant4@ami

The project will be carried out according to a specific design method, which will send to you by e-mail in a minute. In the appendix you will find your role instructions and a General Design method. You can also visit our web site company information.

Good luck,

Your account manager
